THE HASTINGS CHRONICLE.

BREAKFAST DISHES.

HOB Cakes are very nice eaten with broiled ham or fish, and is made by mixing six table-spoonsful of fine yellow Indian meal, over night, with boiling water. Mix it with a piece of butter, the size of a walnut, and set away till morning. In the morning stir in an even tea-spoonful of prepared mustard, and bake in a shallow pan, that is well greased with butter. It is a delicious omelet. It is indispensable that the water with which the meal is mixed should be boiling. With a quick oven it will take only twenty minutes to bake.

HOW is very good breakfast dish, and particularly good for children. A cup and a half will be soaked in cold water, the night before, and boiled an hour, and a half in the morning, with a little salt, which make a dish for a family of four. It is a good dish, and a little milk if it is not made too watery.

COLD Omelet, or farina, makes griddle cakes equal to rice, if it is not required for MIX with it the night before, an equal quantity of sifted flour, work it smooth, and soften with milk or milk and water. Add salt, and when it is in with a half a teaspooft of salmora, the prepared, because that can be used dry, and is more effectual when moistened with water. A small piece of butter, melted and poured in, imparts the golden brown to the cake, which is a sine qua non.

AMIDST all the horrors of war, many incidents are occurring in this country, and which are provocation of mirth, and form subjects for camp stories months after.

I have seen soldiers chase hares, and pick blackberries, when a shower of lead and musket balls were flying around them, and fastidious things, and do many other cool and foolish things. But the following which actually took place at Mine Run, surpasses anything I remember to have ever seen or heard: "One of those biting cold mornings, while the soldiers were drinking coffee, and each other across the river known as Mine Run, when the moment appeared to be hours and hours days, so near at hand seemed the deadly strife, a solitary sheep leisurely walked along the run the ridge side. After a little while it advanced to the picket line, an instant it was covered by a gun in the hands of a Union vidette who said,

"Divide is the word, or you are dead John-"

"Divide" was the answer to, and then the bullet was fired. The vidette Rebel turned back with one-half and crept into it with his pot, crossed the run, got the other half of the sheep and again resumed the duties of his pot amid the cheers of his comrades who expected to help him to eat it. Of the hundreds of hosts many and again each other on either bank of the run, one dared to violate the true neutrality again the two soldiers. —Am. Paper.

ENTRANCE —AN Fanner—There will be a few feet of water to the St. Lawrence this spring and summer for Europe, as well as an unusual number of large vessels built in Quebec last winter, nearly all of which will be required to be loaded with grain, and a number of steamers to this port will also, it is thought, be unusually great, so that all produce coming from the west will be likely to meet with a ready market, and a large number of grain ships will be required to keep up a constant supply of grain to Europe, and a large quantity of grain held on Canada account in Chicago and Milwaukee, as well as a considerable stock in Canada, will be influenced by the relative prices in New York and Montreal. At the present low prices in Britain, and low rates of freight, there is not much encouragement to ship, but if low rates of freight prevail they will go far, operate as an incentimental witness.

AT the present time nothing can exceed the taxation and extravagance of New York.

Drives and pleasure are in the ascendant among the rich. Operatic and dramatic theaters, with audiences; and places of mere sight and sound are equally popular.

There is indeed a great deal of the extreme of vice and want among the poor, although there must be in their midst thousands of really mourning and desolate hearts.

In the view of the public, the extreme degree of the amount of gold in the Bank of New York compared with last year, it is not difficult to predict a period of distress unparalleled in the history of the United States. It will be unjust, however, to suppose that the state of things goes unrebuked, either by the public or the press.
